Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-35 are currently pending and have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent Application Publication 2002/0099738 A1 to Grant.

Regarding claim 1, Grant discloses a method for a server to handle one or more client requests comprising:

obtaining one or more of said client requests for hierarchically organized data at a server; (paragraph 0040) dividing ("parsing") said client requests into one or more smaller units; (paragraph 0037 and 0041) and servicing said units in order (paragraphs 0055 and 0133, specifically "in order traversal").

Art Unit: 2143

Regarding claim 2, Robotham discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said client requests are in XML format. (paragraph 0048)

Regarding claim 3, Robotham discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said hierarchically organized data is stored using a Document Object Model. (paragraph 0111)

Regarding claim 4, Robotham discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said smaller units are placed in a queue. (paragraphs 0055 and 0133, specifically "in order traversal")

Regarding claim 5, Robotham discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said server is a registry server. (paragraph 0111)

Regarding claim 6, Robotham discloses the method of claim 4 wherein said queue is handled using a FIFO scheduling algorithm. (paragraphs 0055 and 0133, specifically "in order traversal")

Regarding claim 7, Robotham discloses the method of claim 1 wherein said units are defined by an XML <envelope> and an XML </envelope> tag. (paragraphs 0037, 0041, and 0048, specifically "SOAP message")

Claims 8-14 are also rejected since claims 8-14 recite a computer program product that contains substantially the same limitations as recited in claims 1-7 respectively.

Claims 15-21 are also rejected since claims 15-21 recite a server framework that contains substantially the same limitations as recited in claims 1-7 respectively.

Art Unit: 2143

Claims 22-28 are also rejected since claims 22-28 recite a system that contains substantially the same limitations as recited in claims 1-7 respectively.

Claims 29-35 are also rejected since claims 29-35 recite and apparatus that contains substantially the same limitations as recited in claims 1-7 respectively.
